

Visconti Homo Sapiens

Visconti's newest pen series is made of a mix between the Basaltic Lava from Mount Etna in Sicily and resin. The pens are hygroscopic, flameproof and virtually unbreakable. Their best feature, however, is their effortless ability to write smoothly. The fountain pen comes with a pure palladium nib and is known for its high vacuum power filler.

Visconti Michelangelo

The amount of diversity and creativity Visconti brings to life in its pens is simply amazing. This set in particular pays a humble, but no less magnificent tribute to one of the fathers of the Italian Renaissance: Michelangelo. The pens have 18 distinct sides that give the illusion of diamonds sparkling in the light. The fountain pen has a 14k Gold nib and a snap mechanism.
